

MEYER COMPLAINS OF 'LOAFING' OFFICIAL

Chairman of Legislative Committee Writes to Corporation Counsel O'Brien.

ATTACKS LATTER'S AID

Curley Defies Investigator and Remains Around Hearing Room.

TAXI LICENSES PROBED

Inquiry Also Is Directed Into Home Service Bureau of Police Department.

The joint legislative committee which is investigating the city administration in a hunt for graft or waste of public funds carried on a double headed conflict yesterday with the Tammany minority members and the Corporation Counsel, while at the same time directing the inquiry along new lines in connection with the Home Service Bureau of the Police Department and the system of issuing taxi licenses.

Over the protest of the Democratic members, who now have declared open warfare on the committee, and in spite of the efforts of the city's legal advisers to block the inquiry, the committee spent hours turning over the accounts of the Home Service Bureau, which has handled millions in the purchase and sale of supplies. The report shows that the receipts from stores where necessities like shoes, clothing and groceries are sold to policemen at less than wholesale prices amounted to $602,431 in 1920. The bureau paid out $576,383 for merchandise. Michael F. Walsh, head of the bureau, was examined regarding the accounts.

James F. Geraghty, Deputy Commissioner in the Department of Licenses, and other members of that bureau have been asked to explain what the city has done to keep tabs on holders of taxi licenses. The department gives out nearly 15,000 permits to operators of cabs. Complaints which are to be investigated charge that in hundreds of instances bogus drivers hold permits which enable them to participate in all kinds of criminal plots.

Use of Taxis for Crime.
Accounts of robberies, burglaries, holdups and all sorts of similar activities usually recite that the operators made their escape in a taxicab. The use of the taxicab in snatching a victim is well known to the police. What the State investigators want to know is whether any attempt is made to keep track of the licenses, as the law requires, and whether the underworld is able to operate more easily because of a defective system of controlling licenses or a lax method of enforcing the system that does exist.

The development of the investigation into these new fields was behind closed doors, but the clashes between the committee and its opponents were aired thoroughly in the committee's headquarters. The Corporation Counsel has been advising city officials not to go before subcommittees and in this has been sustained by the courts. The row broke wide open yesterday.

Senator Meyer, chairman of the committee, wrote to Corporation Counsel O'Brien saying that Thomas F. Curley, Assistant Corporation Counsel, was loafing around the committee's headquarters and insisting that he get out. What appeared to annoy Meyer in particular was that he said Curley was giving out news regarding the work of the committee, and that the committee members, its counsel and publicity directors have maintained strict silence.

"For the last few days one of your assistants has been loafing around the committee rooms apparently in an effort to find out what witnesses the committee is calling and commenting on their identity and business to the newspapers," O'Brien stated in his letter to Mr. Meyer. "The committee has felt that it is undesirable to have such statements published which might lead to unjustified conclusions and which might injure some one wrongfully."

"This conduct of your assistant is of no assistance to the committee in its work and I trust you will instruct him to discontinue it, as it is undoubtedly there in plenty of work in your office for him to do. The committee rooms are open at all times to your assistants when present on official business."

The assistant was not mentioned by name. But Mr. Curley was still "loafing" and conferring with city officials called before the committee on subpoena when word reached the committee that he had been told to get out. He demanded to see Senator Meyer.

"What are you going to do? put me out?" Curley asked the Senator. Curley told Curley he had better get out. "Are you going to send three or four men to put me out? If so, I'll go, but if you send only one I'll give him a battle before I go." Curley insisted Meyer went to his office and nothing was done. "The Corporation Counsel had not answered when the offices closed."

Not United on Action.
It was understood the Republican members were not a unit in taking this action. One or two were said to have advised against it. Mr. Curley was formerly an Assemblyman and was a candidate for District Attorney in Richmond.

"I am a lawyer, not a messenger boy, and I am not a loafer," Curley told the committee. "I am here under orders." On top of this row, Assemblyman Maurice Block, Democratic member of the committee, arrived and started trouble by insisting that the Republicans were barred from the hearing room. Block insisted upon seeing Meyer to file a protest.

"These secret sessions which are supposed to be held by one or two members in fact being held by Leonard Wallstein and Samuel Berger, assistant counsel, in their offices without a single member of the committee being present," Mr. Block said. "The Democratic members are not even told when the subcommittee meetings are to be held, and we have no votes in them. I am a member of a committee and have not been notified of its meetings."

This charge was denied by the Republican members, who said the Tammany members had not turned a hand in the investigation (the purpose of which is to find what charter improvements can be made to improve the municipal government and save money).

MAN LAY DEAD 2 MONTHS WITH DOG HOWLING DIRGE

Repair Men Accidentally Discover Body in Henry Street Tenement—Decedent Was Convict Paroled by Gov. Smith in February, 1920.

Almost nightly for two months a dog has been howling and whining for his master, who lay dead in a small furnished room at 42 Henry street and no one went near to find out what was the trouble. The landlord apparently took what rents were collected for him and did not know that his tenant in the small upper room no longer was paying rent. The janitor tried the door now and then but could not get in, and either believed the roomer was out or asleep, and did not try to enforce demands for rent.

The man who had died there and been forgotten was John J. Moore, pardoned criminal. When repair men in going to fix a leaky pipe found it necessary to get into the room and break down the door they came upon Moore lying on the bed wrapped in blankets. The dog had gone. The animal howled long the night before, and it may have been that he had decided at last no one would come to his master's aid and there was nothing more to be done. He jumped through the window, through which apparently he had returned from foraging trips to maintain his vigil.

Dr. Mr. Volante, Hospital gave the estimate of the time at which Moore probably died and decided that death was from natural causes. In the man's pockets were papers showing that Gov. Alfred E. Smith had pardoned him on February 10, 1920, and that he had been released from Sing Sing on that date. All the neighbors could recall when told of the dead tenant was that Moore had lived alone with his dog.

MINISTERS REBUKED BY LUSK COUNSEL

New York Presbytery Is Told That Its Criticism Is Based on Misrepresentation.

Archibald E. Stevenson, counsel to the Lusk committee, replied yesterday to the "memorial" the New York Presbytery sent to the Legislature Monday which criticized the report of the Lusk committee on the grounds that it was slanderous to the clergy of this city. Mr. Stevenson's reply was in the form of a letter to the Rev. Jesse F. Forbes, clerk of the New York Presbytery.

"It is not surprising," said Mr. Stevenson, "that several members of the New York Presbytery should seek to discredit the report of the committee because it undertook to point out the error of the policy adopted by the subcommittee of the New York Presbytery in the conduct of the Labor Temple, located at Fourteenth street and Second avenue."

"It is surprising, however, that the members of the New York Presbytery would lend themselves to a wilful misrepresentation of the contents of this report. Certain members of the Presbytery have sought to make it appear that the Lusk committee has attacked the church and has condemned the ministry. This is wholly false."

Mr. Stevenson quotes a passage from the report which says that by far the greater part of all religious teachings are "working in an old fashioned crusade against the inroads of materialism and revolutionary thought." He also pointed out that the Rev. William Pierson Merrill and the Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin, who secured the adoption of the resolution criticizing the committee report, are prominent on the committee in charge of the Labor Temple. These two clergymen, Mr. Stevenson said, have approved the employment at the Labor Temple of Dr. Will Durant, who has been barred from the public schools because of his radicalism. The committee in charge of the Labor Temple, he further charged, also has invited William D. Haywood and speakers like him to appear there.

"And, so far as I have been able to ascertain," said Mr. Stevenson, "Haywood was never rebuked or criticized by any of the officers of the Labor Temple for his violent abuse of the Government of this country and the institutions under which we live."

FRED STONE SUSPECTS DOG WAS POISONED

Has Analysis Made of Stomach of $10,000 Pet.

Fred Stone, the actor, aroused over the mysterious death last Monday of his $10,000 dog, Sherlock Holmes, by having the animal's stomach analyzed. Since the inquiry started the Corporation Counsel has been advising city officials not to go before subcommittees and in this has been sustained by the courts. The row broke wide open yesterday.

Senator Meyer, chairman of the committee, wrote to Corporation Counsel O'Brien saying that Thomas F. Curley, Assistant Corporation Counsel, was loafing around the committee's headquarters and insisting that he get out. What appeared to annoy Meyer in particular was that he said Curley was giving out news regarding the work of the committee, and that the committee members, its counsel and publicity directors have maintained strict silence.

"For the last few days one of your assistants has been loafing around the committee rooms apparently in an effort to find out what witnesses the committee is calling and commenting on their identity and business to the newspapers," O'Brien stated in his letter to Mr. Meyer. "The committee has felt that it is undesirable to have such statements published which might lead to unjustified conclusions and which might injure some one wrongfully."

"This conduct of your assistant is of no assistance to the committee in its work and I trust you will instruct him to discontinue it, as it is undoubtedly there in plenty of work in your office for him to do. The committee rooms are open at all times to your assistants when present on official business."

The assistant was not mentioned by name. But Mr. Curley was still "loafing" and conferring with city officials called before the committee on subpoena when word reached the committee that he had been told to get out. He demanded to see Senator Meyer.

"What are you going to do? put me out?" Curley asked the Senator. Curley told Curley he had better get out. "Are you going to send three or four men to put me out? If so, I'll go, but if you send only one I'll give him a battle before I go." Curley insisted Meyer went to his office and nothing was done. "The Corporation Counsel had not answered when the offices closed."

Not United on Action.
It was understood the Republican members were not a unit in taking this action. One or two were said to have advised against it. Mr. Curley was formerly an Assemblyman and was a candidate for District Attorney in Richmond.

"I am a lawyer, not a messenger boy, and I am not a loafer," Curley told the committee. "I am here under orders." On top of this row, Assemblyman Maurice Block, Democratic member of the committee, arrived and started trouble by insisting that the Republicans were barred from the hearing room. Block insisted upon seeing Meyer to file a protest.

"These secret sessions which are supposed to be held by one or two members in fact being held by Leonard Wallstein and Samuel Berger, assistant counsel, in their offices without a single member of the committee being present," Mr. Block said. "The Democratic members are not even told when the subcommittee meetings are to be held, and we have no votes in them. I am a member of a committee and have not been notified of its meetings."

This charge was denied by the Republican members, who said the Tammany members had not turned a hand in the investigation (the purpose of which is to find what charter improvements can be made to improve the municipal government and save money).

LIVINGSTON BOOMS CROPSY AS MAYOR

Brooklyn Leader Sends Up First Trial Balloon of City Campaign.

Jacob A. Livingston, Republican leader of Brooklyn, came out tentatively yesterday in favor of James C. Cropsy, Supreme Court Justice, as the Republican candidate for Mayor. The politician, who has been generally considered the Livingston statement as a "trial balloon."

Having already put himself on record for a Brooklyn man at the head of the ticket, Mr. Livingston was asked whom he regarded as eligible.

"We have," he replied, "Justice Cropsy, County Judge Reuben L. Haskell, Senator Charles C. Leavelle, District Attorney Harry E. Lewis and Darwin R. James, any one of whom would make an acceptable candidate."

"I think Justice Cropsy would make the strongest candidate of this group because he would put into the campaign many of his own issues, which would impress themselves upon the voters of the city."

He added that any of the five named would have his support in case of agreement with the other city leaders.

Neither William M. Bennett nor Mr. La Guardia, President of the Board of Aldermen, whose hats are already in the ring, are acceptable to Mr. Livingston, but he agreed they had "a perfect right to contend in the primaries and to try to impress the voters with their ability and ideas."

Justice Cropsy is backed by a group of Old Guard leaders, led by Jacob Brenner, whose support Mr. Livingston is trying to head in his fight with Senator W. M. Calder. Other leaders, such as F. J. H. Kracke, are unalterably opposed to the Justice, who makes no great appeal to the Manhattan leaders.

Mr. Livingston has expressed opposition to Senator Lockwood, who is a Lieutenant of Senator Calder. In the same way he has shown great interest in the possible candidacy of Mr. James, who would get the support of the independent element which backed Mayor Mitchell. District Attorney Lewis wants to go on the Supreme Court bench. Judge Haskell is not interested unless all the leaders agree that he run on a personal liberty platform.

Justice Cropsy's friends say they are sure he would be glad to run for Mayor if he were sure of election.

"That's very nice," he remarked when the Livingston statement was taken to him on the bench at Minerva. "It's more than I get down here at times."

CITIZENSHIP IS DENIED.
Nephew of Frank Mann Obtained Exemption as An Alien.

Citizenship was denied yesterday to Carl Mann, 26, of 436 Harmon street, a nephew of Frank Mann, Tenement House Commissioner, in the Supreme Court bench. Justice Lawrence denied the application without comment after testimony had been introduced to show that young Mann obtained exemption from military service during the war by making use of his status as a citizen of Germany. He obtained first papers two years ago.

Commissioner Mann tried to justify his nephew's action in claiming exemption. He said he could not have been considered a citizen in 1917 and really believed himself an alien.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

Mr. Stone, who has been walking on crutches for several weeks since he injured himself in his show, "Tip-Top," was not at his home at Amityville last night.

'SPIRIT MEDICINE' SELLER IDENTIFIED

Man Says Woman Suspect in Kaber Murder Sold Him Liquid to Cure Brother.

POISON IS FOUND IN IT

Mrs. Kaber Says That She Is Ready to Tell All She Knows About Crime.

CLEVELAND, June 14.—Identification of Mrs. Ermelia Colavito, indicted with Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber and two other women on a charge of having murdered Daniel F. Kaber, as the woman who had sold "medicines" similar to that she is alleged to have sold to Mrs. Kaber and which is alleged to have been placed in Kaber's food, and the declaration by Mrs. Kaber that "she is ready to tell all" were features of the murder mystery today.

Pasquale Julian identified Mrs. Colavito as the woman who sold him several bottles of the "medicine" for $280 to cure his brother John, who is a patient in the Newburgh State Hospital for Insane. Mrs. Colavito admitted when Julian confronted her that she sold him "medicine," according to Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton and Chief of Police Peter S. Christensen of Lakewood.

Pasquale Julian said that when his brother was suffering from headaches a woman friend of Mrs. Colavito told the Julian family that she could cure him of John's headaches she said she could cure him for $1,000. This was more than the family would pay, and Mrs. Colavito agreed to accept and was paid $100 on two occasions and $50 on another by Pasquale Julian for "medicine" she furnished. Mrs. Colavito's woman friend was paid $20 by Pasquale for directing him to Mrs. Colavito.

The city chemist upon making a preliminary analysis, reported that the "medicine" contained poison. The analysis will be continued.

A woman, formerly a confidant of Mrs. Kaber and her mother, Mrs. Mark Brickel, to-night reported, Prosecutor Stanton and Chief Christensen said, that Mrs. Kaber had told her of her anxiety to be freed from Kaber as long ago as 1916 and declared if she could not divorce him she would kill him. The woman's name was not divulged.

According to the woman, Mrs. Brickel told her not only of the plan to kill Kaber and its execution, but named Mrs. Kaber, Mrs. Colavito, two men and Marlan McArdle as the principals. Mrs. Brickel and Miss McArdle, mother and daughter, respectively, of Mrs. Kaber, are also under first degree murder indictments.

TOSS COP THROUGH WINDOW, ROB HIM
Patrolman Edward J. Kerwin walked directly into a fight yesterday in the cafe of Thomas Delaney, 145th street and Seventh avenue, when he flashed his shield, being in civilian dress, and announced that he was a policeman. He explained that he had heard a cry of some one in distress while waiting for a bus near by, and thought his services might be needed.

"That's the cop that got Peppie," remarked one man in the line at the bar. "There's one hurt here yet, but there's going to be" another suddenly spoke.

There was a rush for the officer, and he backed to the wall and defended himself with his fists.

Kerwin knocked down several of his assailants, and then their massed weight overpowered him. The hoodlums picked him up and threw him through the cafe window. Then they outside, took his revolver and shield, administered a few kicks and left him. He had a bad cut on his head and severe body bruises.

Others saw the finish of the beating, however, and a police roundup resulted in the capture of Carl Downey, a negro, of 120 West 123d street, and Patrick Smith of 1679 Southern Boulevard, The Bronx. Each was charged with assault and robbery and held without bail for examination in Washington Heights court. On Memorial Day Kerwin arrested a man named Peppie.

STILLMAN CALLED 'WORSE THAN A RED'
Continued from First Page.

one of his advisers has made him out to be. The man is a woman hater. He does not believe in any woman. To crush me would delight him. He has complained continually that I have managed to crawl out of the holes in which he has been trying to bury me. But I intend to keep right on crawling out. That is what they have made me do.

"Wall Street is full of men of Mr. Stillman's type, the abnormal type, who believe that no woman has a right to life, much less to happiness and least of all to equality. Still, Mr. Stillman has a few friends who are real friends. They are splendid people who recognize his many good qualities, and they have written to me expressing amazement at his action."

"It is my firm conviction that this suit will teach a lesson that will not soon be forgotten by a certain type of Wall Street man. American gentlemen, rich or poor, of normal mind do not treat the women of their families as my husband has treated me. The time is not far off when the people of this country will refuse to tolerate such an attitude on the part of rich and powerful husbands."

NO OBSTACLE SEEN.
There does not seem to be any likelihood that anything will prevent a resumption of the hearings in the case. All of the many attorneys employed by both sides are here. Stillman's lawyers, among them John F. Brennan, Abel J. Smith of Stanchfield & Levy, and George Goggin of Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft, having reserved rooms at the Millbrook Inn, twelve miles from here. Cornelius Sullivan, Outerbridge Horsey and William Hand, Jr., attorneys for Mr. Stillman, are stopping at the

Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck, sixteen miles north of Poughkeepsie. Just what the witnesses will be remains a matter of conjecture. It is generally supposed three of them will be Dr. Hugh L. Russell, the Buffalo osteopath; Bernard Kelly, former superintendent of the Stillman estate at Pleasantville, and the latter's wife, Mrs. Irene Kelly, who formerly was a maid for Mrs. Stillman. Dr. Russell and Mr. Kelly have not completed their direct examination and are placed on the stand it is considered possible that the three days of the hearing will be consumed in their cross-examination.

Dr. Russell will be subjected to a severe cross-examination. It was he who testified at the last hearing that Mrs. Stillman told him Fred K. Beauvais, the Indian guide, was the father of Guy Stillman. This testimony was admitted by Referee Daniel J. Gleason only after Dr. Russell had explained the alleged conversation had nothing to do with the diagnosis of Mrs. Stillman's ailment and that it had been imparted to him as a friend.

Kelly identified the only letter admitted thus far in the suit. The mislaid letter is alleged to have been written by the guide to Mrs. Stillman. Kelly said he was familiar with the handwriting of Beauvais as he and the guide worked together for a time at Pleasantville. Mrs. Stillman's lawyers will try to upset this testimony.

HELD IN ATTACK ON WOMAN.
Six Youths Accused of Assault and One of Blackmail.

Lawrence Dorfer, 20, of 1802 Second avenue, eldest of seven youths alleged to have attacked Mrs. Pearl Boyce of 1 Manhattan avenue last Friday night in Central Park, was held in $10,000 bail yesterday in West Side court, and six others in $5,000 bail each.

Dorfer was charged with attempted blackmail and the others with assault. The police are searching for six more young men believed to have taken part in the attack. Mrs. Boyce is at her home in a critical condition.

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

STILLMAN CALLED 'WORSE THAN A RED'

Continued from First Page.

one of his advisers has made him out to be. The man is a woman hater. He does not believe in any woman. To crush me would delight him. He has complained continually that I have managed to crawl out of the holes in which he has been trying to bury me. But I intend to keep right on crawling out. That is what they have made me do.

"Wall Street is full of men of Mr. Stillman's type, the abnormal type, who believe that no woman has a right to life, much less to happiness and least of all to equality. Still, Mr. Stillman has a few friends who are real friends. They are splendid people who recognize his many good qualities, and they have written to me expressing amazement at his action."

"It is my firm conviction that this suit will teach a lesson that will not soon be forgotten by a certain type of Wall Street man. American gentlemen, rich or poor, of normal mind do not treat the women of their families as my husband has treated me. The time is not far off when the people of this country will refuse to tolerate such an attitude on the part of rich and powerful husbands."

NO OBSTACLE SEEN.
There does not seem to be any likelihood that anything will prevent a resumption of the hearings in the case. All of the many attorneys employed by both sides are here. Stillman's lawyers, among them John F. Brennan, Abel J. Smith of Stanchfield & Levy, and George Goggin of Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft, having reserved rooms at the Millbrook Inn, twelve miles from here. Cornelius Sullivan, Outerbridge Horsey and William Hand, Jr., attorneys for Mr. Stillman, are stopping at the

Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck, sixteen miles north of Poughkeepsie. Just what the witnesses will be remains a matter of conjecture. It is generally supposed three of them will be Dr. Hugh L. Russell, the Buffalo osteopath; Bernard Kelly, former superintendent of the Stillman estate at Pleasantville, and the latter's wife, Mrs. Irene Kelly, who formerly was a maid for Mrs. Stillman. Dr. Russell and Mr. Kelly have not completed their direct examination and are placed on the stand it is considered possible that the three days of the hearing will be consumed in their cross-examination.

Dr. Russell will be subjected to a severe cross-examination. It was he who testified at the last hearing that Mrs. Stillman told him Fred K. Beauvais, the Indian guide, was the father of Guy Stillman. This testimony was admitted by Referee Daniel J. Gleason only after Dr. Russell had explained the alleged conversation had nothing to do with the diagnosis of Mrs. Stillman's ailment and that it had been imparted to him as a friend.

Kelly identified the only letter admitted thus far in the suit. The mislaid letter is alleged to have been written by the guide to Mrs. Stillman. Kelly said he was familiar with the handwriting of Beauvais as he and the guide worked together for a time at Pleasantville. Mrs. Stillman's lawyers will try to upset this testimony.

HELD IN ATTACK ON WOMAN.
Six Youths Accused of Assault and One of Blackmail.

Lawrence Dorfer, 20, of 1802 Second avenue, eldest of seven youths alleged to have attacked Mrs. Pearl Boyce of 1 Manhattan avenue last Friday night in Central Park, was held in $10,000 bail yesterday in West Side court, and six others in $5,000 bail each.

Dorfer was charged with attempted blackmail and the others with assault. The police are searching for six more young men believed to have taken part in the attack. Mrs. Boyce is at her home in a critical condition.

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.
BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET

FOUND 1856
SUMMARY of Summer things.
Golf suits—homespun and tweeds—trousers or knickerbockers.
Blue serge suits, clear or fuzzy finish—immovable color.
White flannel trousers—sturdy texture.
Straw hats—self-adjusting to head shape.
White Oxfords—buck and canvas.
Golf and tennis shoes and hosiery—approved designs.
Summer shirts, underwear, hosiery, pajamas, bathing suits, belts, bags and suit cases to "carry on" with comfort.
All at payable prices.